The Good Times

Activity is a very important aspect of school life, because without it the school would be an empty shell.

Various Activities

Add to Student Life

Students at Bryan Adams kept time with various activities and events. The talent show was presented for students to display their unlimited talents. Dances were held so that students could get to know each other. The musical, "Annie Get Your Gun," was presented by the concert choir for the students enjoyment. During Homecoming Week, students participated in the various activities by dressing in the 50's and the western styles. A dance was held in honor of Homecoming. Assemblies were a weekly activity during football and basketball season. The various activities added to the school spirit during the 1976-77 school year at Bryan Adams.

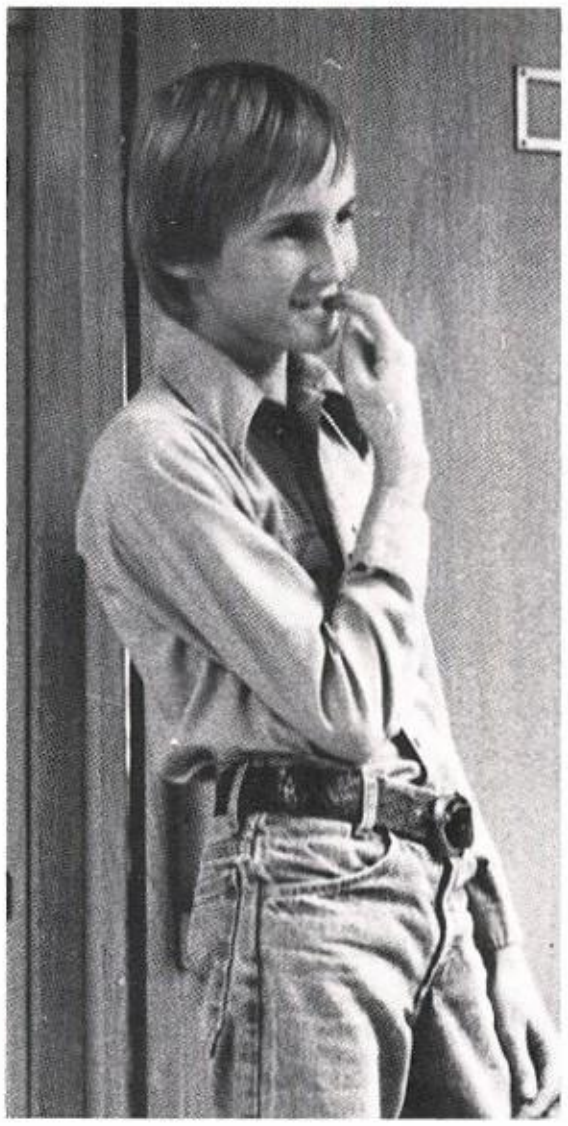
Orientation Day

Starts Things Off Right



Orientation day, held on August 20, was the beginning of school life for many new students. On this day the new students had a chance to get acquainted with the school and its surroundings. An assembly was held in which various organizations were represented. Student Council President, Steve Trubatisky spoke to the new students and welcomed them to Cougar Country. Cheerleaders welcomed the new students with cheers. The majorettes and drill team performed as the band played many tunes to entertain the eager new students.

Following the assembly, students wandered through the halls in search for their homerooms. Booths were set up in the halls to which students could sign up for different organizations. After the students were released from homeroom they were able to go to the lunchroom for refreshments. With the help of the new freshmen and sophomores, Orientation day was successful.

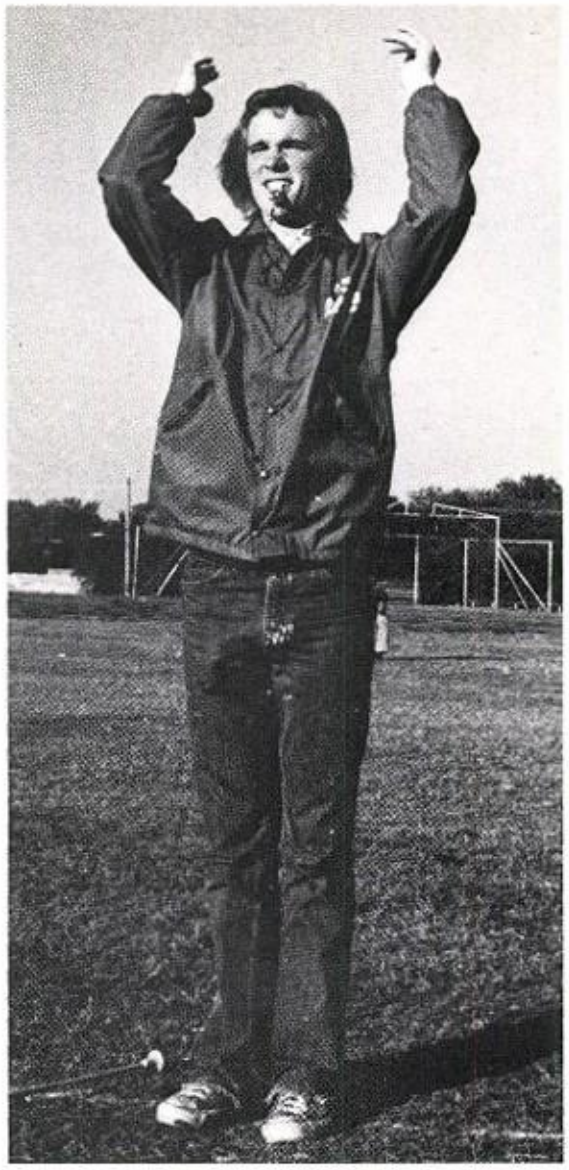
Early Morning Action

Begins School Day



Many students at Bryan Adams this year dragged themselves to the school much earlier than the usual eight twenty-five. A few of these students needed help in courses and arrived at the school ready to discuss and work with their teachers. Some people had 00 classes and arrived at school at a bleary 7:25.

The library was often crowded before first period with students finishing up last minute reports and term papers. Also, several clubs met early in the morning and had sleepy-eyed discussions on their future plans. The CB's and CC's met regularly each week during football season. The Belles, attired in curlers and cutoffs, also spent long hours of practice before the regular school hours began as the music of the band rang into the morning air.

While the auditorium and fields were full of activity, the lunchroom filled up with students ready for a donut and coke. The lunchroom provided a friendly atmosphere for studying, listening to music, or just visiting with friends until 8:25.

Back to the Routine,

Students Return

On August 23, the 76-77 Bryan Adams school year began with high hopes on the part of both students and teachers. 8:25 found most people in their homerooms ready to fill out two or three cards and move on to 1st period. Homeroom, however, lasted for one hour and fifteen minutes. Over half of all schedules were wrong. Three counselors spent several days trying to repair everyone's programs. The auditorium was packed on the first day with over 80% of the students waiting to discuss program changes with the counselors.

As the Bryan Adams population emptied into the halls after homeroom, they discovered that with the new freshmen and sophomores, there was no room to walk. Needless to say, tardies were numerous. The typical "You Are Here" maps were placed at various intersections around the school, which helped new students a great deal.

One other change at Bryan Adams was the addition of a 4th lunch. In all four lunches the lines were extremely long, even though a new line had been added. The juke box blasted out last year's songs while everyone gulped down his lunch.

Fifth, sixth, and seventh periods went as usual and at the 3:55 bell, students and teachers were glad school was over for that day.

Assemblies Give Students Pep and Information

Bryan Adams experienced many new happenings in the 1976-77 school year. One new experience was attempting to squeeze approximately 900 new freshmen into an already filled assembly. Many students were forced to stand along the auditorium walls, as others relaxed in chairs.

Students stood as the Color Guard of the Reserve Officers Training Corps presented the flags and led the Pledge of Allegiance. Following the posting of the colors, the cheerleaders led the student body in cheers to lead our team to victory. Weekly pep talks were given by different team members to encourage their team on to success. Our award winning Cougar band played many catchy tunes to which the majorettes and drill team performed. The band also accompanied the student body in the singing of our National Anthem and Alma Mater. Our assemblies were a vital and enjoyable part of our school activities.

Noon Breaks

Exhausting Day

Traditionally, the only function of the lunchroom was for eating lunch. Not so for the new Bryan Adams. To accommodate the new flow of the freshmen, the study halls were turned into classrooms, and the lunchroom became part-time study halls.

Amazed looks were seen on the faces of returning students as they saw "D" lunch added to the schedule. "A" lunch started in the middle of third period and "D" lunch ended fourth.

Bryan Adams lunchroom provided an easy carefree atmosphere for its students. Students boast of a fixed up juke box, an informative student bulletin board, and a book store for all those last minute needs.

The lunchroom also provided a meeting place for the early birds coming to school. Friends sat around talking about what they had been up to, while munching on their tasty donuts and newly installed regular Dr. Pepper and Coke, which, our student council fought to bring back. It was not uncommon to see sleepy- eyed students getting last night's homework, nor Belles quenching their thirst in the morning.

Even with the extra load of students, Bryan Adams managed to keep the comfortable atmosphere in the lunchroom.

Students Still Active as School Day Closes

Many activities are available to students when they are dismissed from school. Most students have something definite planned each afternoon.

A number of students who are interested in seriously pursuing a certain career, leave Bryan Adams to go to Skyline for cluster groups. These groups provide a different type of learning and a new way of studying for a career.

Meanwhile, at Bryan Adams, the newspaper and annual staffs meet daily at seventh period. Published twice a month, the newspaper is a product of the Journalism Department. Working hard all year, the annual staff produces the annual which is published at the end of the year.

All afternoon the athletics department is working out and practicing. These students remain at school longer than anyone while preparing for games and meets.

On the afternoons before any football game or other sports event, the Spirits are seen decorating the halls with posters and streamers. Before any big event or election, the Student Council adorns the halls in the afternoon with posters.

Sixth and seventh periods one can find the Freshman Band rehearsing! Consisting of sixty-two members, this band does not have as many activities as the regular marching band, but it has plenty of its own activities.

Students at Bryan Adams have a number of things to keep them occupied besides academic work.

Night Life Adds Spark to Student Life

Night life brought about a change in pace for many Bryan Adams students. Some went jiving at a nearby Disco while others went to walk-ins and drive-ins to see a good flick. Couples still visited nearby lakes to watch the submarine races, etc.

Football, baseball and other sports also played an important role in school life. Students rushed to the weekly events to cheer on their favorite team and players to victory. After which they would meet and discuss the event over some pizza.

Other ambitious students fought the traffic on their way to work. Jobs like the workers came in all shapes and styles. Things like pizza chefs, waitresses, and gas station attendants, stockers, checkers, secretaries, and so on, were just a few.

Many of the clubs either met or held activities at night. Young Life drew large crowds on Monday nights. The German Club had a build your own banana split party to start off the year. The sailing club went into full swing at White Rock, where they sailed right on into the sunset.

When the sun set, the cougars began their prowl.

Prehomecoming Activities

Arouse Suspense

November began Bryan Adams' homecoming week. Monday the stage band gave a concert during the lunches in an effort to promote spirit. Ties were seen on both boys and girls on Tuesday. Wednesday the student body regressed back to the 50's. Girls painted their nails and lips scarlet red, while the guys greased their hair back. Everything from chaps and spurs to old saloon dresses were seen Thursday, Western Day. Finally, Friday was the traditional green and white day.

The assembly took a different twist this week also. All of the band performed both assemblies, and only the senior two year Belles and senior majorettes performed.

The game also brightened up the week as the cougars went all the way for a 24-0 game against Samuell. Green and white specks were seen in the sky as the spirits let go of hundreds of green and white balloons at Forester.

The dance Saturday night at the Holiday Inn ended the fun filled week. There couples jived till ten o'clock when the Queen and Court were announced. Around twelve o'clock the band, "Getting Better," played their last song, and the Homecoming activities drew to an end.

Homecoming Week Marked by Dramatic Close

Saturday night, November 6, proved to be an exciting time for many Bryan Adams students as the traditional Homecoming Dance began. This event took place the night after the defeat of W. W. Samuell High School in varsity football.

The dance was sponsored by enthusiastic Student Council members who rented a ballroom at the Holiday Inn on Centerville and L.B.J. Bryan Adams students showed their gratitude to the council by appearing in multitudes to witness the dance. Activities lasted from 8:00 to 12:00, including excellent live music played by "Getting Better," and the crowning of the Homecoming Court, which was announced by Steve Trubatisky. An anxious Lauri Joswiak was crowned Queen while Sylvia Wood, Janet Ashworth, and Melissa Shelton became junior princess, sophomore duchess, and freshman maiden, respectively.

N.F.L. Presents

"We Do It All For You"

"We Do It All For You," a variety of popular television programs was brought to life in the Bryan Adams auditorium. The students in the National Forensic League sponsored the annual talent show. These students spent an enormous amount of time making preparations for the final night.

The performance started off with the Master of Ceremony, Eric Dickerson portraying the role of M.C. of the popular television game show, "The Price Is Right." "The Donny and Marie Variety Show" was also represented, with Mike Hendershott as Donny Osmond and Mary Beth Flynn as Marie Osmond. Other programs such as "Hee Haw," "The Tonight Show," "Midnight Special," and a "Political Debate" were also represented. One of the most well known television comedies, "Welcome Back Kotter," was presented by the students. Commercials such as the Cougar Price Patrol were acted out by several members of the National Forensic League. A medley of the most popular songs on television made up the grand finale to conclude the show.

With the help of the sponsors Ms. Foley and Mrs. Gerard, the N.F.L. talent show was a tremendous success.

NFL Tournament Returns

With New Enthusiasm

On February fourth and fifth, anxious students from all over Texas poured in through Bryan Adams' front doors as the National Forensic League Tournament began.

Activities started after an early release from classes at 2:00 Friday, and the hustle and bustle continued until late Saturday evening. Fortunately for all involved in the tournament, hunger and thirst could be quenched in the lunchroom, and a lounge was set up to relax in and to receive room numbers for the various activities.

Such events as debate, duets and orations were continuous throughout the tournament: Bryan Adams students generously gave up their free time to be hosts and hostesses, timekeepers and errand runners, which helped the tournament go more smoothly.

Late Saturday, after all votes were tallied, an assembly was set up to award trophies and ribbons to the outstanding participants in the various activities. Many Bryan Adams students left the tournament with the excitement of success lingering with them.

Magic! Magic! Casts

Spell Over Students

On the nights of December 9 and 10 the Bryan Adams Cothurnus Playhouse presented "Magic! Magic!" by June Walker Rogers. Grayce Clay with the assistance of Craig Cunningham directed the play. Jana Gillis, as Kaye Kaye Harrington, a girl from Atoka, and Mark McKinnon as Bob Marlowe, later discovered to be The Magnificent Renzo, were the main characters. Throughout the scenes many magic tricks were demonstrated by several different characters. Both nights of the performance the actors successfully presented the play to a large audience.

"There's No Business Like Show Business"

Gun shots echoed in Bryan Adam's Auditorium during "Annie Get Your Gun." On February 17th and 18th crowds gathered in expectation of seeing Jill Stephenson (Annie) and Clint Norris (Frank Butler) 'shoot it out' in the production.

The lead characters were portrayed by Jill Stephenson, Clint Norris, David Triplett, Mika Dial and Steve Ashmore. The audience also had the pleasure of watching two boys from the American Indian Center do a fast-moving Indian dance.

The orchestra provided the music and the Key Club provided the refreshments.

BA Students Dress According to Fads

Many new styles in clothing came into being this year at Bryan Adams. The all-important college T-shirt was extremely popular for both guys and girls although these were not really new. Students also displayed their favorite nightclub or school activity on T-shirts, which they wore with jeans.

A new fad for girls was gaucho pants from the Spanish culture. These came in many different styles and could be worn accompanied by boots and a vest. The new style for guys this year was the sporty look-rugby shirts and jeans. Another popular style for guys was baggy jeans with fancy stitching down the legs or on the pockets. These were dressier than Levi's, but casual enough for school.

As usual, tennis shoes could be spotted everywhere, as well as the famous Earth Shoes and high heels for girls.

Election Year Sparks Students' Political Interest

One of the most important events of 1976 was the presidential election. Everyone became involved in the election in one way or another.

As everyone soon discovered the Democratic nomination was Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford ran again as the Republican candidate. Three presidential debates were held in the weeks preceding the election to point out the issues each candidate upheld. Some voters changed their opinion as a result of the debates, but others remained loyal to their candidate.

Election Day was Tuesday, November 2, which proved to be a very important day in the lives of Americans. A vast majority of people got out and cast their ballots for their presidential . candidates.

One of the main attractions of 1976 was the presidential election which proceeded very smoothly. Jimmy Carter was elected by the people of the United States as president for 1977-1980.

Speakers Provide

Topic of Discussion

Several guest speakers appeared at Bryan Adams this year to enlighten interested students. These speakers came to discuss anything from coming elections to journalistic openings in the career world. A few officials from city and government organizations were invited to speak, and channel eight's own Iola Johnson interested many students in news broadcasting with her vibrant personality and thoughtful discussion.

Two well-known nominees for the Congressional seat, Nancy Judy and Jim Mattox, came on two consecutive days to the psychology room to boost their campaigns, since many students would be eighteen in time to vote.

Most guest speakers seemed pleased to attend Bryan Adams for a day to meet and discuss with students, and hopefully these events will continue for many years.

The Winning Teams

"This could be the best year for sports that B.A. has ever had. All the players having been giving it everything they've got and the student participation has been better than ever."

Chuck Chandler Sr. '77

B.A. Splits

Season Openers

Bryan Adams opened the 1976-77 football season with a rousing victory over North Mesquite. This was the first Bryan Adams win over North Mesquite in six tries. Bryan Adams took the lead nine minutes into the game and held it 7-3 at the half. The Cougar offense exploded in the third quarter to score 14 more points. The Stallions tried a comeback in the fourth quarter, but a North Mesquite fumble with less than two minutes remaining, coupled with a determined Cougar defense settled the matter with a 21-18 win.

The second game of non-district play set Bryan Adams against the Garland Owls. After a first game victory, the second was a disappointment. Bryan Adams managed to get on the scoreboard with a fourth quarter touchdown, but could not overcome the Owls.

District Play

Opens With Two Wins

Bryan Adams opened district play with a 13-9 victory over the Spruce Apaches. Spruce fumbled on the first play, then Bryan Adams recovered and scored in four plays with just two minutes gone in the game. Early in the second quarter, Spruce managed a field goal, and Bryan Adams scored its second touchdown with 3:24 remaining in the first half. The only Spruce touchdown came in the third quarter, leaving the fourth scoreless.

Bryan Adams, after two advantageous Hillcrest penalties led the way to district win number two. Hillcrest was first to light the scoreboard with 7 points. But it was their only chance of the evening. A keyed-up offense working with the stout Cougar defense scored 35 points. Final score: 35-7. This brought Bryan Adams to 2-0 in district play.

B.A. Defense Roars On

The third district game for Bryan Adams brought their third victory for the season, with a 6-0 win over the Thomas Jefferson Patriots. The only score of the game came late in the second quarter on a 58 yard pass from Karl Meisenbach to Mike Martin. A shakey Patriot offense coupled with a determined Cougar defense helped bring about Cougar victory number three.

The Bryan Adams defense came on strong once again, against Woodrow Wilson. The first Bryan Adams score came with just one minute left in the first half, when the Wildcats fumbled in the end zone and the Cougars recovered. The only Woodrow score came in the fourth quarter with seven minutes left, and Bryan Adams scored once more for a final score of 12-6.

White Catches Up as Lincoln Slides Down

W. T. White proved to be a problem for the Cougars as the Longhorns were the first team to defeat Bryan Adams in district play. White took lead by recovering a B.A. fumble in the end zone. A surprise two point conversion failed and the first quarter ended with White up front, 6-0. The Cougars came back in the closing seconds of the second quarter to tie the score on a Josh Munoz touchdown. After a scoreless third quarter, White once again went out front, this time to stay, as the White quarterback threw a 54 yard scoring shot late in the fourth quarter. The Cougars lost 12-6 but were still tied for the district lead.

As the rain misted down on Forester Field the Cougars slipped past Lincoln for another district win. The wet field made for slow traction and several fumbles, but B.A. refused to let loose of the district lead. The tough Cougar defense held Lincoln scoreless as Josh Munoz scored twice in the fourth quarter and the Cougars left the field victorious, 14-0.

Samuell Slaughtered;

Skyline Sways

As a tremendous Homecoming crowd looked on, Bryan Adams put together an impressive show of quick offense and stern defense against W. W. Samuell and defeated them 24-0. For the second week in a row, the defense had shut out the opponents and the mighty Cougars still held the district lead along with W. T. White. It was the first time in 3 years that B.A. had won a homecoming game but it was also the last win of this season.

Inspiration led Skyline past the Cougars in the season finale, 23-8, vanquishing all hopes for a district crown. The only Bryan Adams score with 5:27 left in the game as quarterback Karl Meisenbach threw a 58 yard scoring pass to Jon Campbell who raced untouched into the endzone. Meisenbach then evaded defenders for over half a minute on the conversion as he tried to spot a receiver. As Scott Whitacre plastered a Raider defender with a key block, Karl delivered a pass to Roger Weiland in the endzone. The Cougars then recovered an onside kick, but two dropped passes forced the ball over to Skyline and victory was theirs.

All-city tailback Josh Munoz led Cougar rushing with 946 on 237 carries this season as Karl Meisenbach passed 46 for 110 and 729 yards. Keith Crow led tacklers with 47 unassisted tackles and 68 assists while Jon Campbell stole 5 passes from B.A. opponents.

Winning Common as "Young Cougars" Roar

Playing in the shadow of the varsity, the J.V. green and white teams show promise for future years as both teams closed with winning marks. The addition of freshmen to Bryan Adams deemed the necessity of two junior varsity squads.

What used to be the B-team last year is now the White Junior Varsity. As the season passed, the White J.V. kept up the B-team's winning tradition by finishing with a 7-2-1 record losing only to Lincoln and North Mesquite and knotting up with Thomas Jefferson.

Changing the face of J.V. football, the Green Junior Varsity put together an outstanding season with a 6-2 season record. The Green J.V. is what used to be the regular junior varsity. Both teams show tremendous hope for the varsity teams of tomorrow as this year, the winning tradition has truly taken its place in Bryan Adams football.

Co-Champ Cougar

"Cubs" Crush Competition

Freshman football could not have started out better as the Cougar "Cubs" opened up with a resounding boom at Bryan Adams this year. The charter freshman team defeated all foes except one and shared the district Championship with co-champs Skyline.

After knocking out eight opponents in a row, the freshmen suffered a tough 14-8 loss to the Raiders, in the season finale. The lone defeat notched the Cubs and the Raiders at the top of all other district competitors. The coach of last year's junior high city champs, Bill Hitt from W. H. Gaston feels confident about B.A. football in the future.

BA Basketball Bounces Briskly Into Battle

Winning continued into basketball season as the mighty Cougars' sense of victory became even stronger.

After being eliminated from the Dr. Pepper Tournament and a shaky 7-9 start in non-district play, Coach Zeitz's roundballers flashed out to vanquish five district foes with confidence in the first five district contests averaging 71 points per game to the opponent's 56. Spirit and enthusiasm among the players and support of the fans were vital factors in the team's success. Hopes of a district playoff berth loomed in the wings.

Basketball Team Shoots Down Opponents; Wins Zone

Pulling off the greatest surprise in District was not easy, but the completely underrated and nearly undefeated Bryan Adams Cougars did it in 1977.

After "experts" chose the Cougars to come in dead last, our underdogs proceeded to defeat all the district teams that dared to come their way. The only loss suffered in district play came at the hands of the Skyline Raiders in the first battle with B.A., but the Cougars won the war by defeating Skyline in the regular season finale. No other challengers could keep up with the Cougars' fast pace that earned B.A. the highest scoring average per game in the district. After a brilliant season the victory tables turned the Cougars suffered a terribly disappointing loss to Hillcrest in the post-season opener, 74-66. The Cougars continued to play well all season and thus won the East Zone crown for District 11-AAAA.

Coach Zeitz led the Cougars to an excitingly successful season in which the spectators also played a vital part by keeping attendance records high. Nobody but Cougar fans expected it, but B.A. produced the finest year for basketball competition.

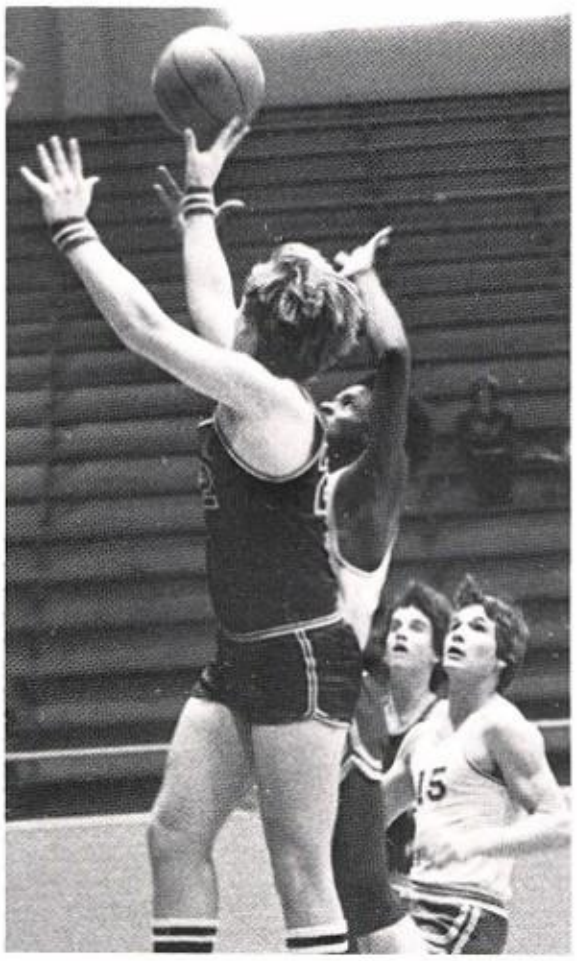
Junior Varsity and Freshmen Keep



Roundball Wins Rolling.

Playing in the shadows of a number one varsity basketball team wasn't easy, but the JV and Freshman teams have shown that in the future, the Cougars should continue to be on top.

Freshman coach Mark Giddens in his first year at Bryan Adams has trained the squad in superlative teamwork. One would suspect that lack of height would keep the young Cougars down, but the freshmen boast the highest points per game average in the district. Certainly tomorrow is full of hope as the freshmen move up to other teams.

Coach Henry Warner's JV squad kept the band of winning teams together by knocking out opponents left and right. Early in the season, the JVers pulled out a double overtime victory over Spruce and as the season progressed, they continued to roll past foes with ease.

Each of these teams, the JV and the Freshman, provide hope for the future, but when one considers the combination of players from these teams that will make up next year's varsity squad, the limits are boundless.

Boys Swim Team

Plunges for State

In years past, Bryan Adams has been represented in Swimming and this year was no exception as the Boys Swim Team continued to win their meets and set records.

Scoring victories at Highland Park and Lubbock, the swimmers defeated some of Texas' strongest teams and set their eyes on the State finals in Austin to be held in March.

Coach Zidermanis led the swimmers to another excellent year and kept the swimming spirit alive as several swimmers qualified for college scholarships and an excellent squad is expected to return next year.

Golfers Complete

Another Successful Year

Under the leadership of Coach Lancaster, the golf program at Bryan Adams has always been quite successful and this year has proven to be no exception as the golf team again provided formidable opposition for all challengers.

After shutting out Spruce, 7-0, the golfers continued to roll in the winning tradition by winning tournament after tournament in district play. The experience of the six returning juniors and seniors and several qualified sophomores combined to spark the team with know-how and enthusiasm. Every afternoon the golfers could be found practicing at Tenison Memorial Golf Course until dark as they tried to perfect their games and the practice paid off as they reached for the city crown.

Soccer Gets Their Kicks in Victory

Bryan Adams soccer entered its new season geared for action. Under the coaching of Bill Flagg the team saw a successful season. The addition of ninth graders added many new players and the spirit and encouragement from old members helped spur them on. Good spirits reigned throughout the season.

Cindermen Work Hard for Good Year

Starting in the early fall with the cross-country team workouts, Bryan Adams guy's track began a good year. Then, with the beginning of spring weather, the other members joined in the workouts and practice.

Each member of the team worked on his specialty, in the daily workouts. Some of the events the tracksters participated in were shot put, discus, high jump, broad jump, sprints, relays, and of course, the long distance runs.

The team was quite large this year because of the numerous ninth graders that joined. They all worked hard, and contributed to the overall success of the team.

Baseball Team Strikes Up for Victory

Setting the pace once again in District 11-AAAA baseball were the always strong Bryan Adams Cougars. This year as usual, the Cougars posed rugged competition for other contenders.

This year the Cougars were led by Coach Regelsky and Captains Josh Munoz and Dennis Moore. Behind them the team rallied victoriously through district play. Coach Regelsky trained juniors and sophomores to fill the positions of senior players who graduated in the spring. Day after day the squad could be seen practicing after school and sometimes on weekends in an effort to sharpen their skills. In the early non-district competition, the team worked out problems in play and prepared for district play.

Tennis Swings in Season

The 1976-77 tennis team could be found almost any afternoon at work on the Bryan Adams tennis courts. Despite much foul weather in early 1977, many long hours of practice were put in.

1976-77 saw the addition of ninth graders to the rolls at Bryan Adams. As a result, a new freshman tennis team was also added. These young Cougars played an important part of the team because they will become the tennis team of Bryan Adams' future.

Many returning players on the team added the spirit and encouragement that these new players needed. Because of this, the tennis team was much larger than ever before. This larger team had no ill effects on the season and they all represented Bryan Adams well.

Girls' Roundballers

Once Again Successful

Coach Obenna Hartford once again led the girls roundballers to a successful season. The girls remained undefeated in district play with another winning season. The girls basketball team has never suffered a loss in district play, for as long as there has been a girls' team! They placed 3rd in the Dr. Pepper tourney, one of three they participated in, and won the east zone championship for the fourth straight year.

The unchallenged star of the team was Carol Reeves. Carol has scored 2,644 points in 88 games, and this year is averaging well over 35 points a game. She has also averaged 6.3 rebounds per game and 4.5 assists.

As in other sports, girls' basketball saw the addition of a freshman team also. This team was coached by Coach Moxley.

Volleyball Loses

Two Too Many

Under the leadership of Coach Obenna Hartford, the girl's volleyball team bounced past all opponents except one, losing the final two games of the season to Skyline.

After a record of twenty-five consecutive wins, the volleyball team took a disappointing second place district berth. No other team in Dallas High School history had ever won twenty-five consecutive games, therefore the team set a new city record. Thus, proving their continuing excellence in competition. Nolan Estes honored the team at the Administration Building during a school board meeting and Coach Hartford graciously accepted an award of extreme excellence.

Girls' Soccer

Gets Off the Ground

Girls' soccer sped into its second year this season. With practice daily, the girls became proficient at all the skills necessary for good play. Being only two years old and with a squad of new players, the team managed a good season. As in other team sports here at Bryan Adams, the girls represented the school well in both spirit and ability. Many new faces were also seen with the new ninth graders.

Swimmers Strive for District Win

Under the leadership of Coach Austrums Zeidermanis, the girls' swim team worked out at White Rock swimming pool for several hard hours each day. The time was spent improving different strokes, endurance and speed.

Practicing hard every day were the two girl divers, Cheryl Dietzman and Becky Hill. Each diver strove for perfection in form and timing.

The swimmers were successful when they went to show their skills at regionals. They attended meets at SMU during the latter part of February. Followed by the state meet held in Austin, the girls' swim team finished the year on a successful stroke.

Girl Tracksters

Round Out Good Year

The 1976-77 girl's track team began their 4th season in interscholastic play this year. Coach Muddy Moxley ran the girls this year for a good season. The girls participated in many of the same events as the guys with the shot put, relays, sprints, and long distance runs. Many new ninth graders helped to round out the team, and they represented us well in the district play as well in the district play as well as in spirit and sportsmanship.

Student Council Plans

Exciting and Active Year

Bryan Adams Student Council continued to maintain its reputation as a highly organized student government. Plans for the school year began early in the summer and continued throughout the year.

Bryan Adams Student Council was instrumental in reinstating the use of candy and soft drinks in the schools throughout the district. The Council continued to maintain the Student Bookstore, the Student Voice newsletter, and the Life Leadership conference. Council also continued the successful Gripe Box and the sale of carnations before Pep Assemblies.

The big event for the year was Homecoming. A full week of special dress up days and activities were planned by the Council and topped off by the Dance at the Holiday Inn.

This year's Council was led by Steve Trubatisky, president, Mika Dial, vice-president, Linda Davies, secretary, and Tamy Callahan, treasurer. Sponsor was Bill Densmore.

NHS Strives for Academic

Excellence and Achievement

Recognition of academic excellence and leadership qualities is the main goal of the National Honor Society. Membership is based on grade point, school service and leadership and teacher recommendation.

As in the past, this year NHS sponsored College Night, which provides students with the opportunity to talk to college representatives from the entire country.

In the spring, as new members are chosen for the society, all attend the annual Spring Banquet. Under the leadership of Steve Craig, president, Joe Pool, vice-president, Cyanna Branham secretary, and Jeana Clark, treasurer, the group strove to maintain academic excellence at B.A.

NHS was sponsored by Mrs. Carolyn Nail, Mrs. Mary Chancellor, Ms. Leslie Haralson, Ms. Donna Bronaugh, Ms. Ruby Little, Mrs. Carolyn Wartes, Ms. Grace Hargrove, and Mrs. Talmadge Jacques.

Membership Explosion Increases Pep and Enthusiasm of Spirits

Once again, Spirits continued its tradition of being the largest student organization in the school. The addition of the freshman class to Bryan Adams caused the spirit organization to swell from two to four hundred in membership. Because of the immense size of the club, interested senior girls became Senior Sponsors to help keep the activities of the club running smoothly.

During the football season, under the direction of Astrid Boudewijn, president, the Spirits decorated the halls each week and developed flash card routines for the games. Club officers met weekly with the sponsors, Mrs. Sylvia Tyra, Miss Janice Pinyan, and Mrs. Jessie Barbee.

Spirits stepped out in style this year with new uniforms which consisted of white slacks and the traditional green jackets.

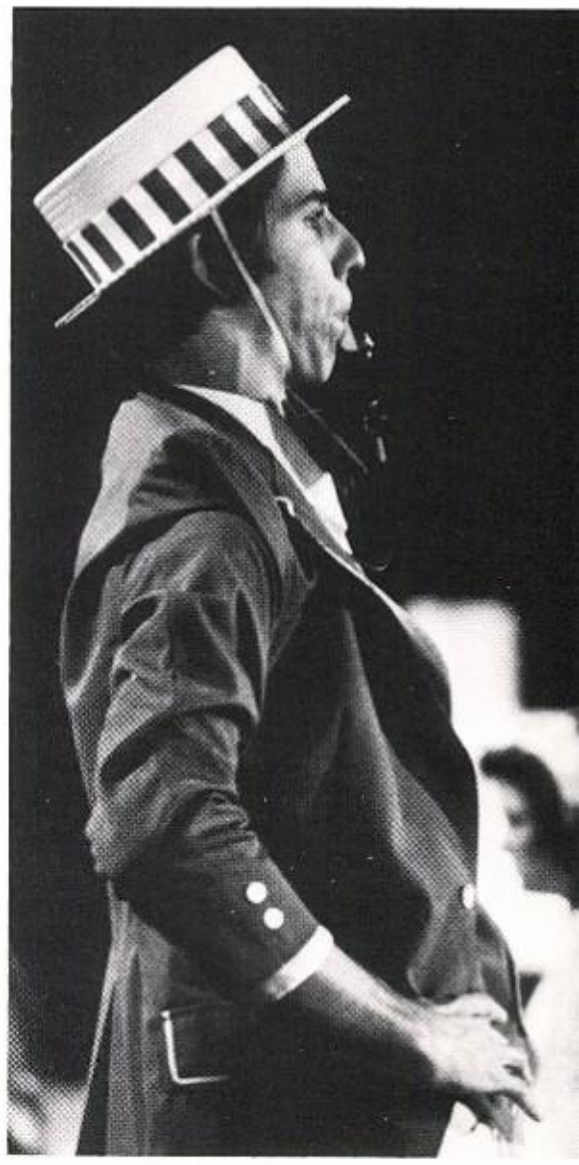
Cougar Band Marches to First Place Victory



From Dallas to Disneyland, the Cougar Band provided a fresh approach to precision marching. The band's agenda of activities began in August when they performed at the Dallas Cowboy Salesmanship game at Texas Stadium.

October proved to be an extremely busy month, beginning with the band leading the Opening Parade at The Texas State Fair. Once again the Band participated in the Parade of Champions where they won First Place and a thousand dollars. This is their fourth, first place victory at Fair Competition.

On October 17, the Cougar Band flew to Los Angeles to march in the Coliseum at halftime for the L.A. Rams-Chicago Bears battle. While in the L.A. area, the band and belles were also featured in a parade at Disneyland.

The 1976-77 Marching Band was under the supervision of Band Director, Mr. David Pittman, and assistant director, Mr. Don Daniel. This year's drum majors were Clint Norris and Floyd Reifein.

Majorettes Twirl to Disneyland, Los Angeles

Majorettes of 1976-77 performed their spectacular jazz dance twirling routines alongside the Bryan Adams band. While striving for perfection they practiced on weekends, before and after school in order to add extra entertainment for their audience.

Dazzling performances at the opening of the White Rock bike trails, Parade of Champions, football games and on the exciting trip to California, they continuously showed enthusiasm throughout their routines.

October was really booming for DorRae Tubb, feature twirler, Kathleen Kruger, head majorette, Suzy Stevenson, Sheri Hunter, Val Smith as they performed at the Los Angeles football game between the Rams and the Bears. Mr. David Pittman was the director of the Bryan Adams majorettes.

Belles Show Cougar Spirit in Los Angeles

Los Angeles was the destination for the Bryan Adams Belles and Band. During the month of October the duo performed for the Los Angeles Rams half-time festivities. While in Los Angeles, the Belles took time out of their hectic schedule to go to Disneyland. Also during that month the Belles and Band won a first place trophy when they participated in the Parade of Champions State competition at the State Fair.

Adding sparkle to their half-time presentation was what summer practice was all about. Showing what they had perfected, the Bryan Adams Belles performed at Texas Stadium for the Cowboy-Bronco half-time in late August.

The Belles lived up to their reputations as the "Pride of White Rock" by performing in the pep assemblies and the cougar half-times with their routines and traditional Bryan Adams kick.

The seventy-two member organization was directed by Captain Carolyn Hardy, Co-Captain Renee Getz, Lieutenant Laura Edgar and Sponsor Miss Nina Sparks.

Cheerleaders Spark Spirit

Through New Chants and Cheers

Excellent and superior ratings were received this year by the 1977 cheerleaders and cougar at the annual summer competition held at Southern Methodist University. They were also awarded the Spirit Award, the highest possible honor, and the much sought after spirit sticks.

Unifying and organizing school spirit in pep assemblies and throughout the various athletic seasons, was the goal of the cheerleaders and sponsor, Mrs. Kelly Fortner. Several new chants, cheers and pies in the face sparked spirit in the fall pep assemblies. Cougar Spirit Sticks were awarded to the students and organizations that displayed outstanding spirit and enthusiasm for Bryan Adams.

Successful student participation was the reward for the cheerleaders after the long hours of practice that began late last spring and continued daily throughout the summer.

Key Club Plans

Year of Service and Action

Continuing the tradition of serving the community and Bryan Adams the 1976-77 Key Club planned another year of service. Affiliated with the local Kiwanis club members, Key clubbers met on a weekly basis and planned Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for underprivileged families. They also committed themselves to cleaning up the school grounds every month.

The highlight of the year was the annual Kiwanis vs. Key Club basketball game, held in the girls gym. This served as the fund raiser for many of their activities.

Key club was led by Joe Pool, president, Phil Cluff, vice-president, Drew Knowles, secretary, and Larry Waite, treasurer. Sponsor was Mr. McClure.

N.F.L. Students Qualify

for State Competition

Rent-a-Youth, Bake Sales, and the N.F.L. Talent Show were the various project which allowed the National Forensic league to participate in tournaments through out the school year. The twenty member squad was able to raise over two-thousand dollars which made it possible for them to travel to Waco, Corpus Christi, Wichita Falls, and Austin besides their weekend tournaments at area schools.

Under the guidance of their sponsors, Janet Gerard and Tissa Foley, the N.F.L. team was able to perfect their debate, oratory, duet acting and various other techniques.

In February the N.F.L. sponsored the largest tournament in Texas with over sixty schools attending. Four students, Joe Wyman, Glen Farris, Cindy Chambers and Mary Beth Flynn, qualified for State competition. This tournament was held at Baylor University during the month of March.

The N.F.L. officers for the 1976-77 school year were: President — Ken MacDowell; Vice-President — Cindy Chambers; Secretary — Mary Beth Flynn; Treasurer — Joe Wyman; Point Recorders — Glen Farris and Tina Melton; Coordinators — Lana Chriss and David Miller.

Dramatic Goals

Continuing as one of B.A.'s largest organizations, Cothurnus Club strove to perfect dramatic skills and play performances throughout the 1976-77 year.

The year's activities began with the traditional auditions that established membership in the club. Work then began on the club's yearly presentation of Cothurnus Playhouse. This year's work was the classic comedy, "Magic Magic." Directors Craig Cunningham, Mona Gonzalez, and Nicky Gamm plus club members devoted many hours to the production.

After Playhouse, club members participated in the all-school musical. Members then turned their attention to one act play competition in the spring.

Patchwork Players Bring Glee to Children's Faces

Children's Theater, better known as Patchwork Players, went into its eighth year with performances all over Dallas. This program, a combination of class and club, was the only one of its kind in Texas. Performances were given for children for their amusement.

Nursing homes, churches, elementary schools, the Diabetic Association, and Muscular Dystrophy were some of the locations for the performances given several times a week. On October 2, the troupe performed its main production, "In Search for a Tune," on Channel 11. "Joy to the World" was performed at Haymarket Theater on December 11, and at the official lighting of the City Christmas Tree on December 15.

Mrs. Ann Nieto directed the members in rehearsals during sixth and seventh periods. The girls' costumes consisted of patchwork shirts, body suits, and tights. The costumes for the boys were overalls and patchwork shirts.

Swimmers Synchronize to

Circus Theme

With legs high in the air in perfect ballet form, the B.A. Synchronized Swim team strove to perfect water ballet routines. Throughout the year members learned challenging yet beautiful swim routines.

Each Wednesday, members gathered at White Rock Pool to practice routines, first on land and then in the water. The club's efforts were pulled together in the spring for their annual show. The theme of this year's production was a Circus carnival.

Members were coached by Mrs. Lethat Stevenson. Club officers were, Theresa Stone, President, Co-Captain, Mary Jan Hall, Secretary-Treasurer, Kim Durbin. Faculty sponsor was Janis Brodnax.

Human Relations Seeks Trust, Unity, Among Students

The purpose of Human Relations was to promote respect, trust and unity among students, faculty and administration. They worked to establish a healthy environment at school free of discrimination as to race, color, religion, origin or sex. Human Relations also worked to become a more student oriented organization, by planning food drives and collecting cans for needy families.

Human Relations was sponsored by Mrs. Sara Scott Gay. This year's president was David Ibarra, Vice-President, Scott Whitacre, Secretary-Treasurer, Donna Hutchings.

Jazz Ensemble Adds

New Musical Dimension

Contests, special performances and fund raising projects were all part of the Jazz Ensemble's busy year. The Ensemble found a challenge in their previous accomplishments which include winning not only first place in the DISD contest but also "Outstanding Musician," "Outstanding Band," with six of their members being chosen for the DISD Honor Band. Also, the thirty member band participated at contests held at Mountain View College and University of Texas at Arlington.

The Ensemble first performed for the student body on November 1, when they introduced Homecoming Activities. Later, they displayed their musical talents at the Basketball Assembly and Student-Faculty Basketball Game. On March 17, a special concert was given for the PTA Scholarship Fund.

During the fall, each member was busy selling stationery, calendars, and novelty items, to buy a public address system which aided the Ensemble in their Annual Spring Concert.

Following tradition the Spring Concert was highlighted by the accompaniment of a major guest artist. Mr. Don Daniel was the Ensemble's supervisor and director.

Concert Choir Expands

Introduces Chamber Choir

Among many of the new changes which took place in Concert Choir was the addition of a new choir called Chamber Choir. During the Christmas season this group which consisted of thirty members performed at the Magic Pan at North Park. Another change was the renaming of the ensemble, to the New Addition.

During the month of December, Concert Choir performed for the student body. Carolers were heard throughout the halls of Bryan Adams during second period. A performance at Town East for exhausted Christmas shoppers was another custom of choir members.

"Annie Get Your Gun" was chosen for the Chorus annual musical. The choir worked long and hard preparing for the production held on February 17 and 18. Toward the end of the school year the choir took a trip to Galveston to compete against other high schools. During the year Mr. Colton Erwin served as director of the choir.

Adventures in string arrangements was the name of the game for members of the '77 Orchestra. Students had an opportunity to play in the Christmas Assembly and the Musical. They also entered into various DISD competitions and competed in UIL solo and ensemble contests.

Currently, only freshmen and sophomores are involved in the orchestra. However, conductor, George Bartow hoped to expand the program to other class levels and introduce a wider scope of instruments.

Cougar Ice Skaters Slip, Slide and Fall Through Year

Once a week members of the Bryan Adams ice skating club were seen at Fair Park Coliseum participating in the public skating session between eight o'clock and ten o'clock. Cougar skaters sometimes found it hard to stand up on the ice. Anyone who wanted to learn, improve, or enjoy skating could become a member of the club for the main purpose of getting together with friends and having fun. A discount of twenty-five cents was given to Bryan Adams students with membership cards.

The officers of the club for the 76-77 season were President Keith Roach, Vice President Cheryl Dietzman, and Secretary Brent Hickock. The club's faculty sponsors were James Arrington and Leslie Haralson.

They returned to B.A. with awards in folk singing, poetry reading and competition, photography and German cooking.

Excelling Latin Students Win in Activities of Competition

One of the largest organizations was the Latin Club with a membership of fifty-five. One of this club's best known activities was the Hearts-O-Grams for St. Valentine's Day. Students purchased these notes to let their sweethearts know they were thinking of them on Valentine's Day.

Numerous other activities occurred throughout the year. Some of these were the Newcomer's party at Love, the Christmas Progressive Dinner, the swimming party, the area convention in Sherman, the state convention in Amarillo, and the annual Roman Banquet.

Delegates to the convention left on March 10 and returned on March 12. At the convention, state officers were elected and there were meetings as well as a talent shows and classes. These classes pertained to things from basket weaving to traveling. Candy bars were sold to raise money for charities such as Pesos for Braces.

Other activities supervised by sponsors Mrs. Helen Golden, Mrs. Sally Rushing, and Mr. Juan Baldor were the costume party for Halloween and the Christmas party. This year's officers were President Cyanna Branham, First Vice-President Celia Falzone, Second Vice-President Brenda Beaton, Secretary Gayla Russell, and Treasurer Leslie Craft.

Club members signed up for the numerous events and entered area rodeo meets. Discussion of riding skills was a frequent topic among members. Events included, bullriding, bareback riding, saddle bronc, steer wrestling, barrel racing, calf roping, breakaway roping and chite dogging. Events for the female members included goat tying, pole bending, and steer undercorating. B.A. rodeo members held their own invitational rodeo October 30 and 31 in Kaufman, Texas.

Radio Club Masters

CB Jargon

"Hey, there good buddy, ya got your ears on?" "Seen any Smokies southbound on Peavy? Ten-Four" The CB craze hit everywhere this year and Bryan Adams was no exception. In pace with the times the B.A. Radio Club organized to become informed about FCC regulations, bone up on their CB slang and simply have a good time with CB's.

The main concern of the organization was to learn how to properly use available CB's without abuse. As the airways become more crowded, this has become a significant problem.

This year's radio club was sponsored by Mr. Knox and led by president, James Clark.

Young Life Members Discover Fellowship Through Christ

Young Life, a non-denominational Christian organization, had a large membership this year. The purpose of the club was to help students feel fulfillment in their lives by experiencing Christ. The meetings consisted of singing and skits that involved everyone present.

Skiing in Colorado was an important event for many Young Lifers. Another annual event was the visit to Sky Ranch, in East Texas. The singing was continued on these trips to bring the students closer together.

Young Life was a popular club as shown by its large membership. The sponsors for this club were Mike and Carolyn Hines.

Club members collected money from the entire student body in order to fill the 100 stockings, of which 50 were given to the psychiatric ward at the Veterans Hospital and the rest were sent to Red Cross headquarters. La Casa de Amigos received friendship packages in February. The annual blood drive was held and over forty-eight pints of blood was contributed by students.

Library Council Serves

School Through Participation

Not every student hates going to the Library. In fact, Library Council members are the extreme exception. Students who were interested in working in the Library and in learning about the organization of the B.A. Library became involved in the B.A. Library Council.

Council members were most helpful to the head Librarian Miss Mary Ann Dodds, by returning books to the proper place, keeping track of book fines and helping students find the books they needed.

The council met every Monday to discuss problems and be introduced to new books. In February, Council members held a reception for the entire faculty before school.

Science and Math Clubs

Explore Test Tubes and Numbers

An organization which is dedicated to broadening and enhancing scientific knowledge of its members was characteristic of the 1976-77 Bryan Adams Science Club. Members accomplished this through a variety of field trips and guest speakers. One of the largest projects which the organization tackled was the Science Symposium for the fifteenth consecutive year. The officers were President Michelle LeePow, Vice Presidents, Teresa Watson and Mary White, Secretary Carolyn Sherman, and Treasurer Leslie Craft. With Ms. Candy Fowler serving as sponsor the club ended a successful year.

The Math Club went to Dallas Baptist College for a contest at the beginning of the year. They worked with calculators and computer machines to improve their mathematical skills. The club was led by Ms. Kathy Coneway.

TAHOS Supports Health Occupations

TAHOS, the Texas Association of Health Occupation Students, is an organization of students interested in the health field. TAHOS seeks to acquaint the student with the many challenges and opportunities available to him.

Health students who participated in TAHOS were busy throughout the year with contests and conventions. For the first time since its origin, there was a National TAHOS Convention on November 12 and 13, held at Six Flags Inn in Arlington, Texas.

Later in the year, TAHOS students traveled to Houston, Texas for the State Convention. Stephanie Matthews served as the State president and was also a member of the local TAHOS chapter at Bryan Adams.

The 1976-77 officers for the local chapter were: President — Jerry Bradley; Vice-President — Arthur Bradley; Secretary — Lou Anne Hebert; Treasurer — Kay Ivey; Reporter — Renee Heflin; Historian — Moana Ilaoa; Parliamentarian — Sandy McGinnis; and Sentinel — Kathy McDonald. Mrs. Dorothy Taylor served as sponsor.

Pub Staff Reveals

Seniors Scandals

Did you come to school in the fifth grade in your slip? Did you get caught parking at White Rock last year? If so, the details of your life probably appeared in the Senior Pub during the closing days of school.

Beginning in March the Pub staff met three times a week in order to compile the lists of names and "events" of graduating senior students. This year's Pub took on a completely different look. For the first time the Pub appeared as an insert section in the final copy of the Cougar CROSSROADS newspaper. Inflation had hit the Pub staff budget and it was decided the insert would be a more economical way of exposing seniors caught in the act of being themselves.

Under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Hines and director Donna Richards, the Pub continued its tradition of being one of the most popular senior memories.

Newspaper Staff Focuses on Students and Special Activities

With the cost of materials rising the COUGAR CROSSROADS staff decided to raise the price of the Bryan Adams newspaper to thirty-five cents. The spirited staff which consisted of twenty-one students provided news stories that were argumentative, expressive, humorous and contemporary. New directions were formed when more feature stories were added this year.

Recognizing students for their outstanding accomplishments was one highlight of the newspaper. The main goal of the COUGAR CROSSROADS was to meet the needs of the student body, which was difficult because of the various ages of the people at Bryan Adams.

The 1976-77 COUGAR CROSSROADS staff was led by Editor Ken Macdowell, Assistant Editor Lisa Rush, and Sponsor Carolyn Hines.

"el C" Staff Searches for

New Dimensions in Yearbooks

Hysterical shouts and screams from room 231 caused passing students to believe an emergency or disaster was in progress. The truth was that the EL CONQUISTADOR staffers were having heart attacks as Kathie Bowley, sponsor, was saying their layouts were all wrong. Many revisions in copy and layouts were made as pages of the 1977 EL CONQUISTADOR were slowly and painfully completed. Despite the pressure of the hectic deadlines and the outrageous demands of Rhonda Echols, editor, the new yearbook was finally completed and distributed to the student body on Scribble Day.

Changes were made in the yearbook to give it a new look that coincided with the many changes in Bryan Adams. Changes were expressed in the theme "New Directions." Changes not directly concerned with the book were the switch from room 231½ to room 231, the calendar painted on the chalkboard for the photographers and the immensity of the "el C" staff.

New Leaders Are Born

Through Military Training

Promotion of citizenship training along with seeking out leadership positions were just some of the purposes of Reserve Officers Training Corps. Some of the areas of competition are the rifle team, male drill team, and female drill team. At the competition in Wichita Falls the drill team won a fourth place trophy. With a total of sixty-nine high schools at the Metroplex competition, Bryan Adams won first place. Other competitions in which the Bryan Adams ROTC participated were Fair Park, City Gallery, and the City Championship.

A small group of the ROTC known as the color guard showed spirit through participation in the pep assemblies and at the football games. The hard working men who worked with the Reserves Officers Training Corps were Sergeant Major Clifton G. Stadler, Sergeant First Class Dozier Sutton, and Sergeant First Class Evanda Kiel.

School Board Implements Workable Desegregation Plan

Conquering major changes were only a few of the challenges faced by the School Board this year. The Board was faced with implementing the new desegregation plan that touched all areas of the Dallas community.

Besides working of the desegregation plan, the board worked on massive pupil reassignment, provided professional development training for all employees, studied problems confronting schools and assisted the Board of Education in its duties of policy making and legislative relations.

This year's School Board members were Glyn Strother, Kathlyn Gilliam, Sarah Haskins, Bill Hunter, president, Dr. Nolan Estes, general superintendent, Dr. Emmett J. Conrad, Robert Medrano, Charles Fletcher, Bradford Lapsley, and Eugene Smith.

Bryan Adams High School

Nolan Estes
General Superintendent

Dear Student Body:

Many challenges face Bryan Adams this 1976-77 school year. One half of the student body is new to the campus. The Court Order handed down by Judge William M. Taylor this spring provides for the ninth grade becoming a part of the high school. The student enrollment at Bryan Adams has jumped from 2600 to nearly 3500. This increased enrollment taxes our physical facilities considerably. Even though space will be at a premium, we look forward to having an opportunity to guide these new students' learning experience. We have added 23 new teacher positions, one counselor, and another assistant principal to work with these young people.

We will continue to place emphasis on making significant improvements in our total educational program. Our curriculum is being revitalized, and we will use a broad variety of effective procedures and methods to challenge the students. We hope to not only insure the students' understanding of academic concepts and skills, but how to live in a pluralistic society.

The principal is the educational leader and is responsible for initiating, organizing, and evaluating the total educational program for Bryan Adams.

The last few years have seen a change in the student body. The students are a little more conservative in their life style patterns. They seem to have more pride in themselves, their school, and community.

Sincerely yours,

D. D. Richardson

Mr. Richardson Meets Challenges of New Year

An added addition of students and faculty this 1976-1977 year was a challenge to our principal, Mr. Dearl D. Richardson. Increase in students from 2600 to about 3500, and 25 new faculty members has brought upon Mr. Richardson added responsibilities. Classrooms must be provided for new teachers, and additional space to occupy the young Cougars.

Mr. Richardson was greatly responsible for the friendly atmosphere at Bryan Adams. This enabled students and faculty to work together in the students' learning process.

Although many changes took place, Mr. Richardson gave the support that was needed for a smooth and orderly year.

Assistant Principals Supervise

New Directions of Student Body

Working hard to guide and benefit the Bryan Adams student body this year were our Assistant Principals.

Whether you were on your way back from Jack-in-the-Box or Taco Bell, chances are you ran into an Assistant Principal.

Always busy but never too busy to come to your aid were Mr. Maddison, Mr. Reed, Mr. Forgey, and Mr. Riojas. Aside from their disciplinary duties all Assistant Principals shared in the supervision of the parking lots, transportation, smoking area and in attendance of all school functions.

New this year Mr. Riojas was in charge of the freshmen. Miss Carmichael was again director of pupil personnel responsible for statistical data on student enrollment, and Mrs. Stephens continued as Dean of Instruction working to maintain a delicate balance between students and faculty.

The administration here at B.A. worked together and was a helping hand in the new directions of our student body.

Counselors Direct New Students Into New School Life

Counselors at Bryan Adams were back at school long before anyone else. Schedules had to be planned; data printouts had to be completed. The first day of school students began noticing problems in their schedules. The counselors bravely attacked the hordes of schedule changes, and every student was placed "somewhere" by the end of the second week of school.

The state has educational requirements for graduating students, and the counselors determine who will graduate and who will not. There are six counselors here, and their job is to help the students. Anytime a student has a problem, the counselors are there to lend a sympathetic ear. Everything a student says in the counseling office is confidential. New to Bryan Adams this year was Mrs. Nell Martin. Returning for another year of serving the students were Mrs. Pat Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Lewis, Mrs. Elizabeth Enlow, Mrs. Eloise London, and Mrs. Gloria Brown.

Randy,
I have enjoyed working with you this year. Have a fun summer and the best of luck!
Mrs. Brinlee

Randy, You are a fine young man & I wish you the best life has to offer

Best wishes to you Randy. You are a very fine young man. Have a fun summer and we will see you next year.

Attendance and Guidance Help

Organize Large Enrollment

Having more students than usual at Bryan Adams this year did not seem to affect the Attendance Office and the Youth Action Center.

Three new attendance ladies were added this year because of a bigger enrollment. With the extra personnel the Attendance Office was able to run smoothly. The Youth Action Center was kept busy with going to other schools to give safety talks, sponsoring canned food drives in November and December, besides doing their main job which was to help get students back in schools.

In the Youth Action Center the teacher in charge was Marvin Fleetwood, the advisor was Rodney Hinton, the police officer was Bob Wilson, and the probation officer was Jerry Vining. The three new attendance ladies were Mary Brinlee, Mildred Morgan, and Eva Peck.

English and Journalism Students Learn to Skillfully Express Themselves

Language Arts courses at Bryan Adams gave students a chance to learn to communicate and to express their ideas orally or in writing.

Grammar assignments strengthened the students' writing skills, while the study of different periods of literature gave the student a better understanding of different cultures.

One quarter courses, the Novel, the Short Story and Modern American Drama were available for those students who wished to delve deeper into English literature background.

Journalism classes were provided for those students who were interested in becoming strong newspaper writers.

Under the direction of Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Bowley, the students learned to pick up leads, organize headlines, edit, and to skillfully interpret the news to the best effect.

Creativity Came Alive

With Speech and Drama

Creativity came alive this year of '76-'77 with the many students who participated in speech and drama classes. Fulfillment of expression was sought through debates, acting out dramatic parts, make-up, set design and one-act plays. Hours of practice and weekends spent at out-of-town speech tournaments brought B.A. students home with many awards.

Drama students found classes exciting as they portrayed parts they had admired from a distance. Through their parts they discovered more about themselves and each other.

Although tournaments and performances were rewarding and fun, competition was great and a good deal of dedication was required as students rehearsed night and day in their efforts toward success.

Art and Music Offered

Many Opportunities

Fun was the key word this year when discussing art and music classes. Mosaics, coiled baskets, Christmas films, and clay work were just a few of the many projects art students worked on. The trophy cases were never empty as students displayed the products of their hard work.

Music was ever present as interested musicians studied theory, stage band, marching band, and as they participated in the many choirs. Concert choir added pleasure to the holiday season with their Christmas programs which for the first time in many years was seen by the entire student body. Caroling down the halls was another of their activities at Christmas time.

The Fine Arts Department offered an opportunity for students to refine and increase their abilities in crafts design, art, and music. Though hard work was involved students found these two electives fun and exciting.

Foreign Language Opens New Dimensions for Communication and Culture

Students of Foreign Language at Bryan Adams this year learned to communicate with others in new and different ways. The students did not only learn about the language which they studied. Along with grammar, these students studied the people of each country. Students learned about what life is like for other people in other countries. Foreign Language students had their choice of French, Latin, German, and Spanish. Classes were offered for any student, for first year beginners, second year, third year, and even fourth year and up for the more adventurous language student. The Foreign Language classes here at Bryan Adams had a lot to offer, and many students are more understanding of other countries, other languages, and other ways of life.

Social Studies Focuses on Election, Investigates Political Structures

Social Studies took on a new indepth study of political structures as a result of the Presidential election in November. Many guest speakers such as Jim Mattox and Nancy Judy made appearances at Bryan Adams to discuss the issues of their campaigns.

Anthropology was added to the many courses available in the current curriculum. Mrs. Joyce King was welcomed as a new instructor to the social studies department.

Every year students took their traditional trip to the courthouse complementing the study of City Law. They also took a field trip to the meat packing plant in relation to the study of the novel, The Jungle. Many other speakers came to Social Studies classes. Speakers came from the police department, the old folks home, and from child welfare, all dealing with relevant social problems of today.

Psychology and Sociology

Explore Man and Society

Many students at Bryan Adams who wanted to learn about man and his mind, took Psychology or Sociology. Both courses were offered for one quarter. Just a few of the subjects the students studied were transactional analysis, hypnosis, E.S.P., dreams, mental retardation, and brain functioning. Along with these subjects, the student participated in experiments such as mazes, a coin toss, a logic puzzle, and a creative and maturity test. Many of these experiments frustrated some students but could be interesting and enjoyable to others.

Those students who wished to learn more on Psychology, were able to take the Social Work cluster, also offered for one quarter. In order to take this class, one must complete either Psychology or Sociology. Speakers were invited to the class to talk on epilepsy, speech pathology, mental retardation, child abuse, alcoholism, transcendental meditation, and their careers. Terrell State Hospital, for the emotionally disturbed, received a visit in January from the Social Work cluster. These students also paid a visit to the Denton State School for the mentally retarded, the Forensic Sciences, and Calliers Speech and Hearing.

Math Students

Further Their Knowledge

Students at Bryan Adams furthered their knowledge with reading, writing, and arithmetic. Some of the math courses available were Fundamentals of Math, Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Trigonometry, and Calculus. Whether a student wanted to take the required courses in math or desired to go on to higher mathematics, the Math Department had the necessary program.

Math students occupied their time by graphing functions, logarithms, square roots, and the age old word problems.

Math was made easier, however, for the students as well as the teachers with the aid of calculators.

Math was a subject which was preparatory for college and the business world.

Science Department Expands,

New Teachers Added

New teachers and new subjects were added to the Science Department this year. Teachers had to be transferred from area Junior High Schools to educate Freshmen in Physical Science. Other courses such as Biology, Chemistry, and Physiology were offered again this year. Altogether these courses provided a student interested in Science nearly every chance imaginable to increase their knowledge about our environment, and the environments of others. Many students were interested in Science, and some were members of the Science Club.

Biology students learned about theirs and other lives, while Chemistry students did laboratory experiments. In March, Science students were invited to the annual Science Symposium. Many students attended the lectures to learn even more about the type of science they were interested in.

Home Ec and Industrial Arts

Teach Consumer Skills

With the aid of Home Economics and Industrial Arts students were shown how to provide for themselves.

In Home Economics how to plan for a wedding and take care of their families. They also learned how to sew new wardrobes and cook.

This year in Industrial Arts another teacher, Mr. J. Mills, was added to the section. Students learned how to do scroll work in the metal shop, jewelry in the plastic shop, engraving in drafting, and furniture in the woodshop.

In April certain students went to North Texas State University, where they entered their project in regionals. After that they went to state.

Business Education Prepares Students

Typing, shorthand and business math were available for those students who wished to work in the "business world."

In bookkeeping and business math the student learned to use and fill out many different journals, ledgers, order forms, bills and income tax forms.

In typing and shorthand the students strived for speed and accuracy. In order to reach their goal many students came either before or after school to improve their skills.

These courses and the access to many different kinds of machines prepared the student for better jobs in the future.

Gym Classes Help Keep Students Physically Fit

Dedicated to the physical fitness of the students of Bryan Adams was the Physical Education Department. Students had a chance to stretch their school-weary bodies in gym class. Physical Education students of both sexes played many different kinds of games, and did countless exercises that only a gym teacher could invent. To keep the students from getting bored, the teachers also taught interesting new games, such as lacrosse. Those who did not participate in something as fervid as lacrosse no doubt at one time or another partook in one of the more common sports. For example, softball, soccer, basketball, football, hockey, archery, croquet, dancing, tennis, or volleyball. More than once girls' gym classes were observed having odd contests, such as races on small, three-wheeled platforms, and swiftly dressing and undressing from a box of bizarre clothes. During the not-so-busy days students played dominoes and checkers.

Photography Class Proves Preparatory for Future

Photography class was taken as a preparatory course for possible photographers of the future.

Chemicals and contact sheets were common sights for photography students as they worked to improve their photography skills.

As students took turns using the darkroom, they experienced every facet of photography; from setting up a picture, taking it, and then developing it on paper into a finished product.

The different types of cameras were studied as well as the prints and contrast contained within the prints.

Photography class served as an opportunity for interested students to develop their photography talents.

Study Hall Serves as a Break in a Busy Day

Study hall was an opportunity for students to unwind between classes and to visit quietly with their friends.

Students also took advantage of their study hall hour to catch up on homework and to study for tests.

Sleep is a must for every student and study hall made up for some of that sleep lost the previous night.

A time to relax and break up the day was what study hall meant to B.A. students in 1976-1977.

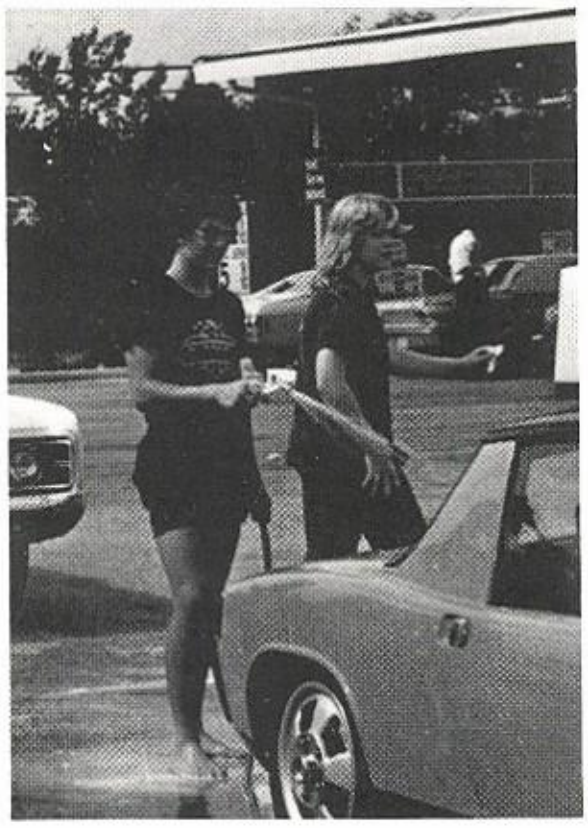
Senior Council Plans

Successful Year for '77



Elected by the student body the Senior Council has proved to make a successful year for the graduates of '77.

Headed by President Jon Campbell, Vice-President Chuck Chandler, Treasurer Pam Wagnon, and Secretary Robbie Whitson the Council prepared activities for the enjoyment of the senior class. Different Committees were held during the school year 76-77. Each group had a chairperson to organize the committee.

Money-raising projects such as the car wash held in October and the Sudent-Faculty Basketball game in March help raise money for the Prom, the senior gift to the school, and the many varied senior activities.

The Council worked toward the purchase of letters for the outside wall of the school building to read BRYAN ADAMS HIGH SCHOOL as the senior gift to the school.

Through the work of the Senior Council this year became a success full of many memories for all.

I Remember
as a Child
Running and Playing
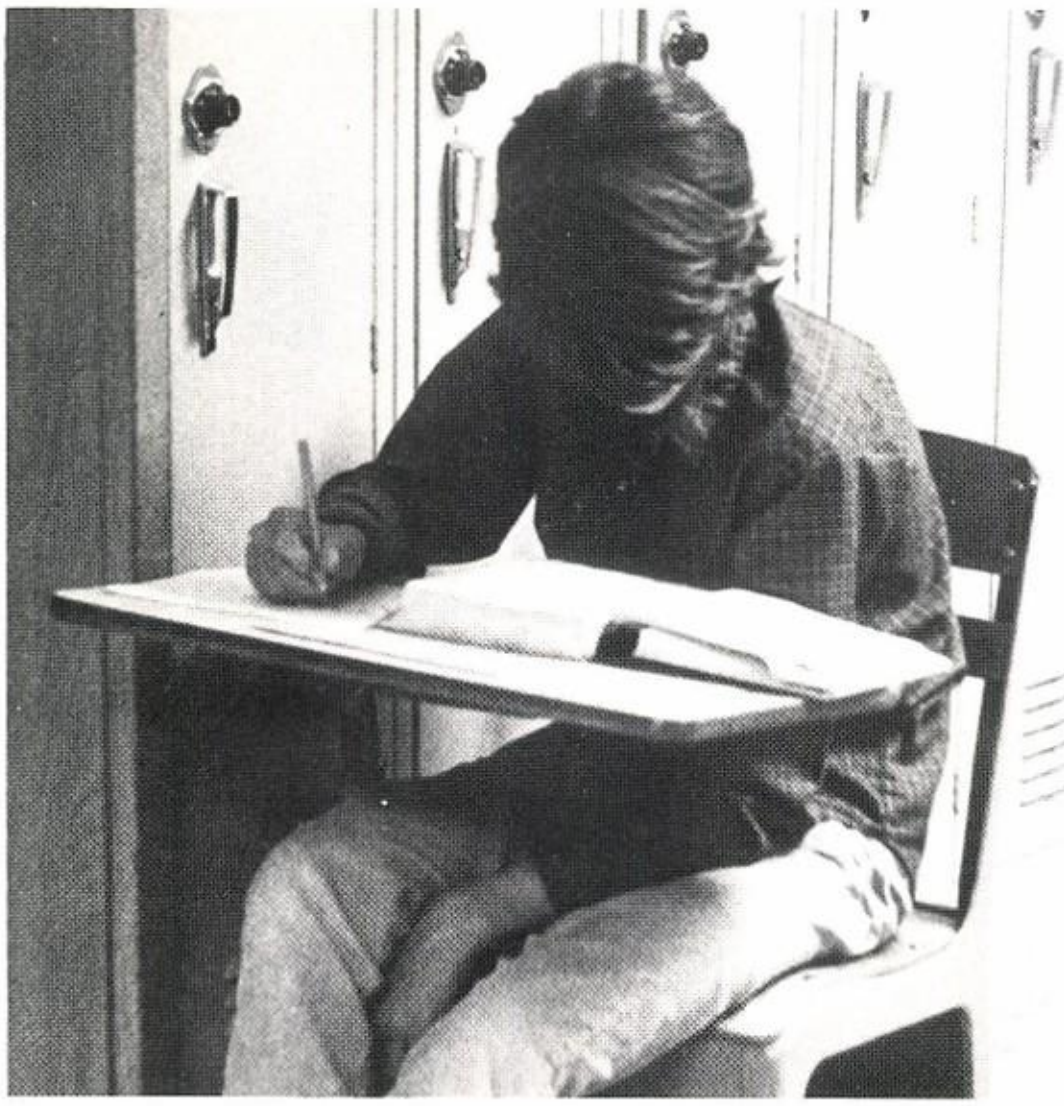
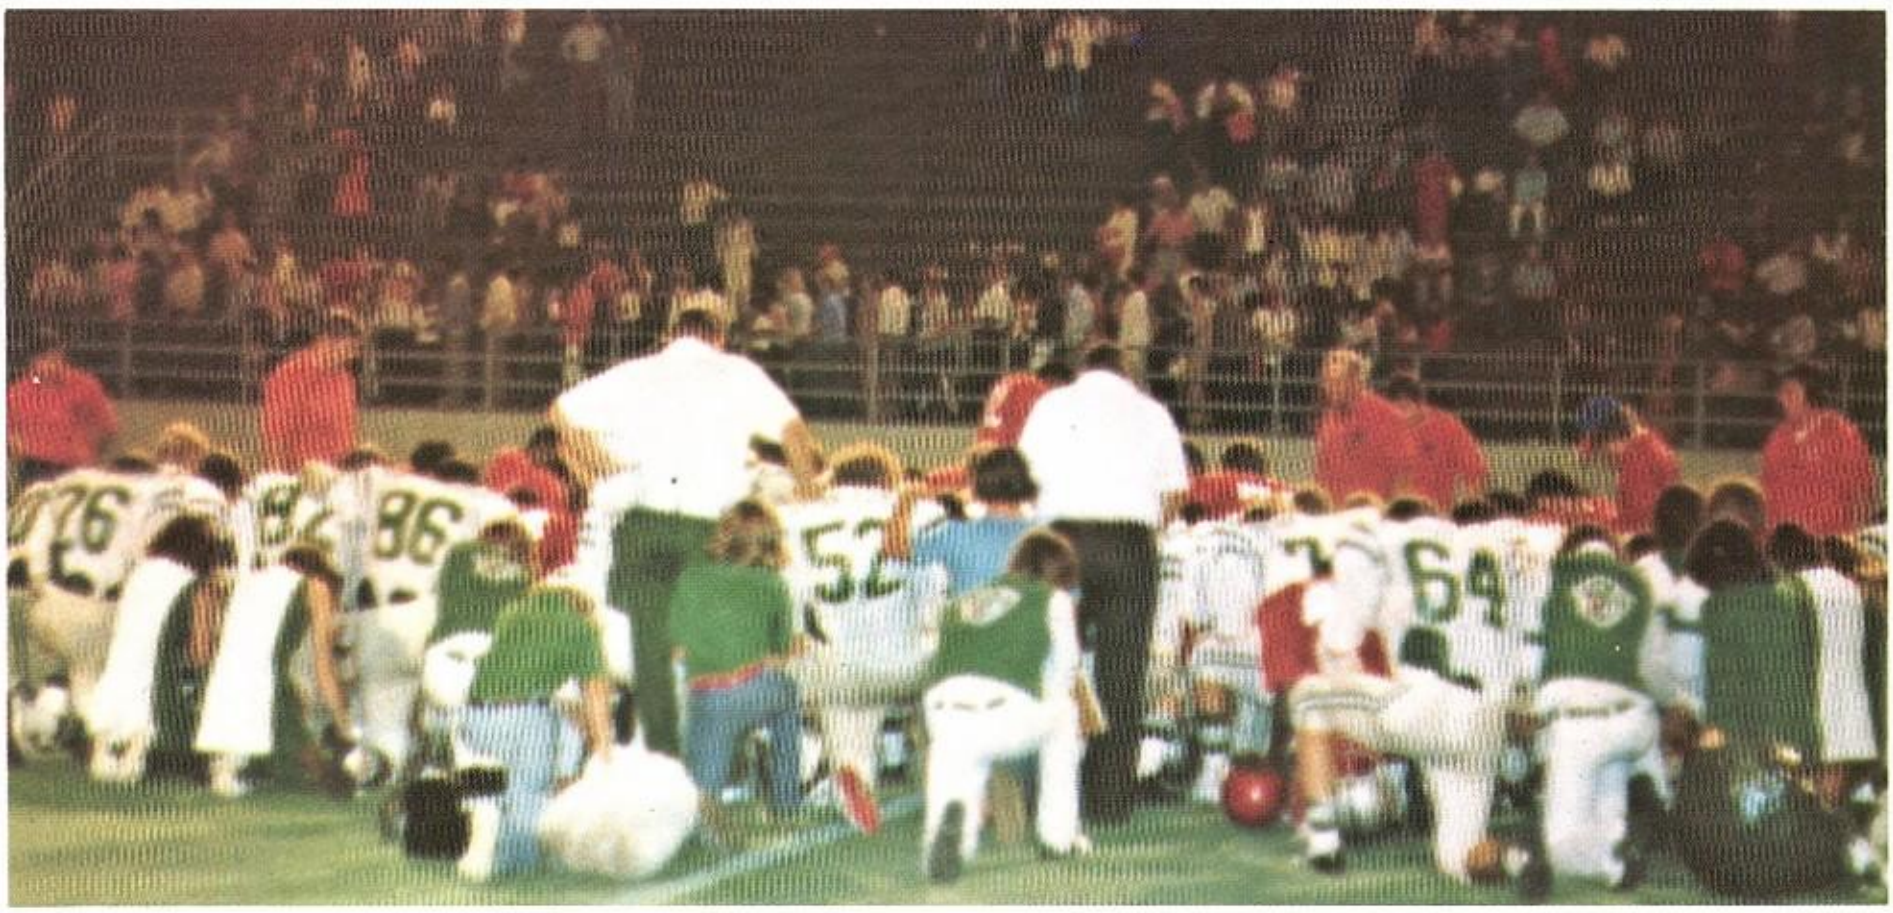
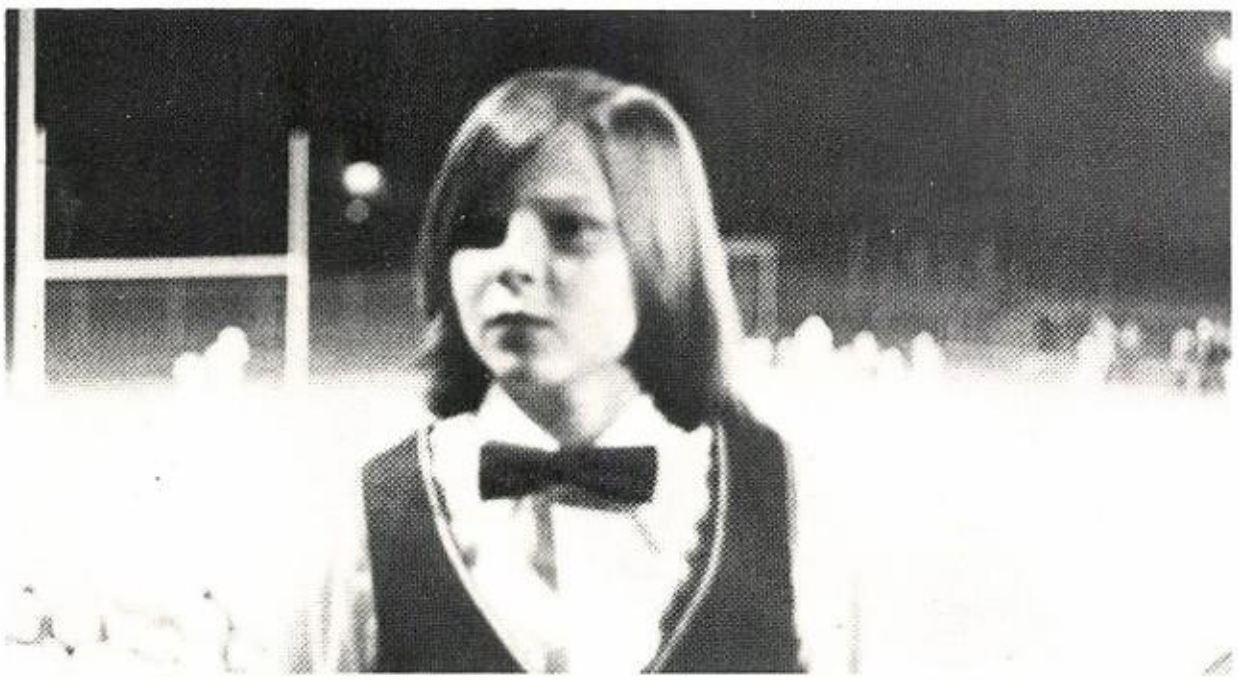
Free and Wild.

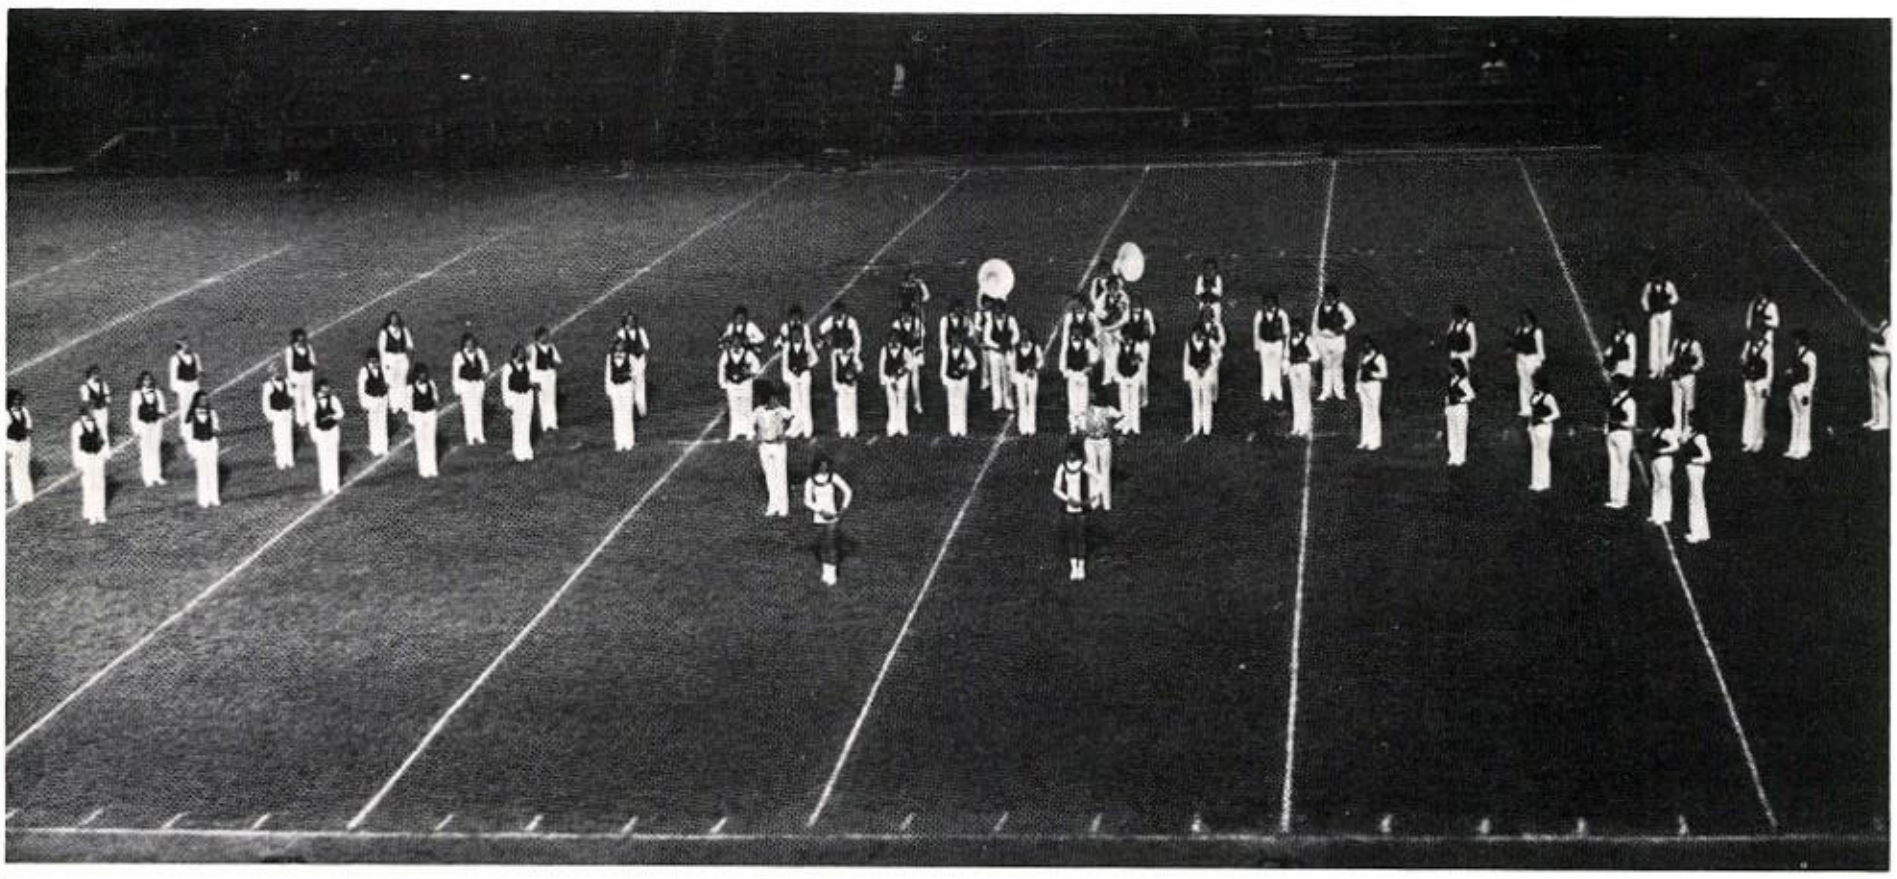




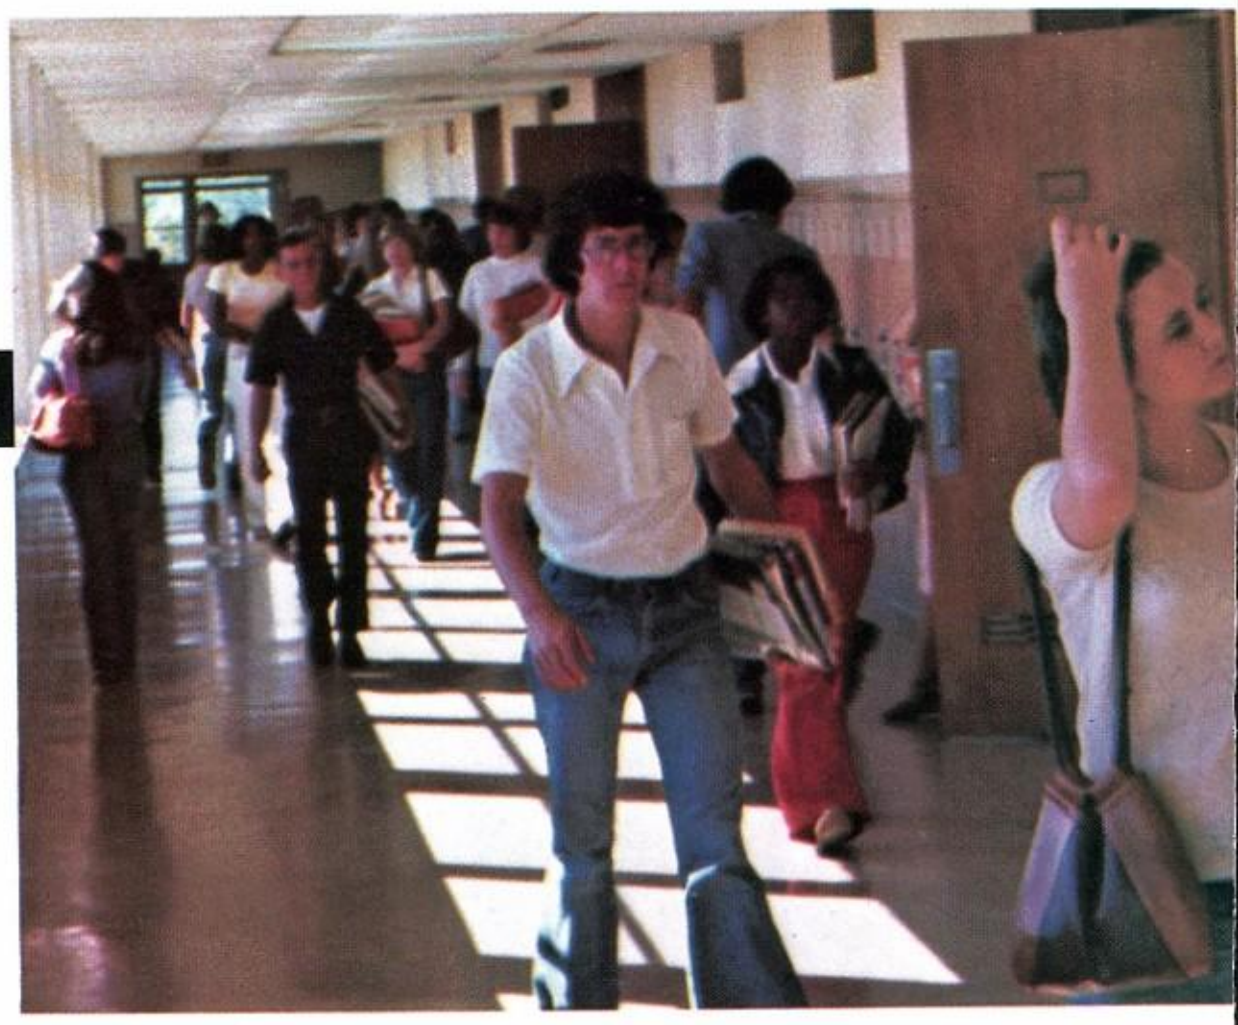
I Remember
Those Happy
Days
All Our Funny,
Foolish Ways.

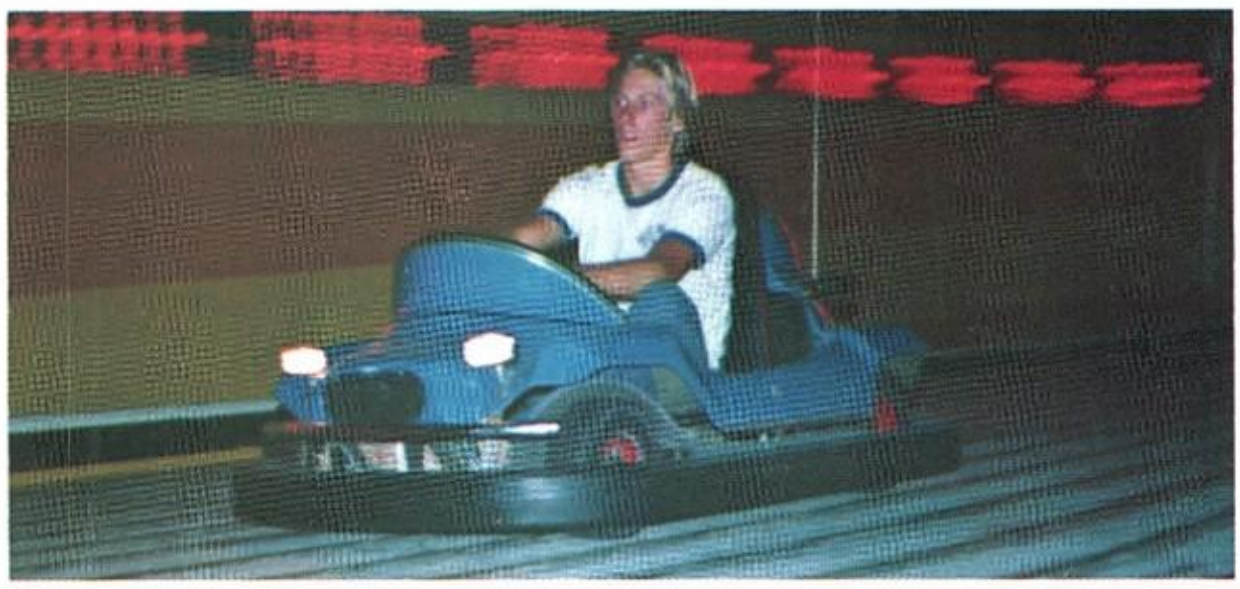
I Remember Most Everything How We Used to Play and Sing.





We Played Many, Many Games
And Called Each Other Silly Names.





Remembering
On Those
Bygone Days
When We Had Fun In Our Own Ways.

I Wish I Could Go Back and Replay Many of Those Happy Days.

Frantic Deadlines

Frantic deadlines, negatives, ande dectol were the name of the game for the El C photographers this year. No other group of people was faced with such a large volume of work under such demanding deadlines.

Joe Savant, Derry Minor, Ken Schatz, Joe Garcia and Steve Pilgrim were the trojans of the El C staff. Faced with an enlarged book of 416 pages, photographers were busy even before school started. The "night before deadline" became famous for the late hours, and frantic developing. There were ups and downs, however, one fact still remains . . . without them, there would not be a book.

ABOVE: Ken Schatz wonders what in the world he did to that print.
